

SPACE PIRATE GAME

SPACE PIRATE GAME

ADD EACH OF THESE TO THE GRID:

BOARDING ACTION
Steal another player's points.

FIRE LASERS
Resets another player's score.

GIFT
A chosen player receives 1,000 points.

Swap scores with another player.

RAISE SHIELDS
One attack may be blocked.

Choose next square.

DEFLECTORS ONLINE
One attack may be reflected.

Your score is doubled.

ANTI-MATTER CONTAINMENT FAILURE
Your score is reset.

Your score is banked.

5000

x 1

3000

x 2

1000

x 10

200

x 25

ADD EACH OF THESE TO THE GRID:

BOARDING ACTION
Steal another player's points.

FIRE LASERS
Resets another player's score.

GIFT
A chosen player receives 1,000 points.

Swap scores with another player.

RAISE SHIELDS
One attack may be blocked.

Choose next square.

DEFLECTORS ONLINE
One attack may be reflected.

Your score is doubled.

ANTI-MATTER CONTAINMENT FAILURE
Your score is reset.

Your score is banked.

5000

x 1

3000

x 2

1000

x 10

200

x 25

The background image is the NGC 281 "PACMAN" nebula, as photographed by Orlando using the RedCat telescope. It was discovered in 1883 by E. E. Barnard, the astronomer after whom the famous Barnard's star is named. NGC 281 is 96 light-years in diameter, located 9,500 light-years away in the constellation of Cassiopeia.

ADD EACH OF THESE TO THE GRID:

BOARDING ACTION
Steal another player's points.

FIRE LASERS
Resets another player's score.

GIFT
A chosen player receives 1,000 points.

Swap scores with another player.

RAISE SHIELDS
One attack may be blocked.

Choose next square.

DEFLECTORS ONLINE
One attack may be reflected.

Your score is doubled.

ANTI-MATTER CONTAINMENT FAILURE
Your score is reset.

Your score is banked.

5000

x 1

3000

x 2

1000

x 10

200

x 25

The background image is the NGC 281 "PACMAN" nebula, as photographed by Orlando using the RedCat telescope. It was discovered in 1883 by E. E. Barnard, the astronomer after whom the famous Barnard's star is named. NGC 281 is 96 light-years in diameter, located 9,500 light-years away in the constellation of Cassiopeia.